Stang considers BG manager job

By JEFF BROWN

BELLE GLADE—Tommy Stang, an associate and stockholder with the Briley, Wild and Associates engineering firm, was formally offered the position of Belle City Manager by the city commission Thursday, October 14.

His decision is expected within a week. The commission offered the job to Stang after discussing his qualifications at a special noon meeting Thursday.

Two years ago, the city had offered the job to Stang, but he had turned it down, according to Mayor Thomas L. Altman.

Several years earlier, he had been offered the job of public works director.

When Rolf Wagner announced his intention to seek employment elsewhere and leave the city when he found another job, Altman said he approached Stang again and that Stang seemed interested.

"My wife and I had talked and decided I should slow down," said Stang, who travels a lot with his present job. "And when you (Altman) came to me with this, well, it just fit right in.

"I wouldn't be here if I wasn't interested."

Stang has been with Briley, Wild and Associates for 20 years and has been working on Belle Glade projects since 1968.

"He would come in knowing most of the city employees and they know him and like him. He knows a lot of people in the community and they like him and respect him," said Altman. Stang also owned a construction company in the Clearwater area and had served as a Clearwater City Commissioner from 1952 to 1958. He currently holds three positions with Briley, Wild. He is a project representative, a stockholder and associate, and sits on the board of directors.

"One of the things I like about him is that he can take a technical problem and make it simple for the commissioners so we can understand it," said Mayor Thomas L. Altman. "Over the years, I've developed total confidence in him, and that's important between commissioners and the city manager."

Copies of the agreement between the city and outgoing City Manager Rolf Wagner were distributed to the commissioners and Stang for discussion.

"A handshake is all I really need, although I realize that the city needs something on paper to protect itself," said Stang.

Altman said that the base salary is up to about $40,000 per year.

Commissioner George Goforth said he had no objections to Stang, but reminded the commissioners that they once discussed the possibility of hiring a local man for the job because they would know the individuals strengths and weaknesses.

He said he was interested in what Stang's weaknesses might be.

Altman and Stang both agreed that finance might be a weakness, but they both felt that that wouldn't be a liability because of the city finance department's strength.

Wagner has accepted a position as city manager of Aztec, New Mexico, and will be leaving at the end of the month.

WITH ITS BACK TO the goal, Clewiston turned Pahokee back four times from the one yard line Friday in one of the most exciting football games of the year. Clewiston took a 3-0 on Pete Walker's 37-yard, first quarter field goal. Story on Page 6A.

SB to build new homes

SOUTH BAY—Citizens living in South Bay wanting to purchase a home in the city may get the change to do so with the assistance of the Farmer's Home Administration, Palm Beach County Community Development Department and Tripp Construction Company.

The South Bay City Commission approved a special request Tuesday night granting a variance which will allow Tripp Construction to build approximately 20 homes on lots 135 feet by 60.

LaRue Tripp, owner of the company said engineering plans are presently being worked on to add to additional homes to the plan.

The homes will be built on five acres of property located just west of the Palm Beach County Housing Authority project, and south of Palm Beach Road.

City Manager Lomax Harrell said the homes will be located on Southwest Ninth Ave.

In an agreement worked out between Tripp and Community Development, all capital improvement items will be picked up by the Department.

Tripp said the homes will be built in the neighborhood of $41,000 and will be two and three bedrooms.

He said the buyer will be able to choose from four different styles.

Tripp said he did not know what the interest rate or what the down payment price would be.

"The interest rate set by Farmer's Home will be far less than what you would get at a bank," he said.

Tripp said the down payment would depend on the income and number of persons in family.

He said Farmer's Home is looking for people in "need" of a home and not those people who just want a home. He said persons interested in applying should make between $9,000 and $15,000 annually.

Harrell said the city has a list of approximately 200 persons who are in "need" of a home. He said the city started the list approximately two years ago.

Tripp said he will be handling all the paper on the applicants, but Farmer's Home will have the final decision as to who will participate in the program.

"Without the support of Farmer's Home and Community Development, the project would not be possible," he said. "The homes can not be built for $40,000," he said.

Tripp said the project should get underway in November and should be completed within 12 months.

The committee also decided to attempt to organize a talent show and to look into the possibility of organizing the annual Black Gold Dance on its own in 1984 for financial reasons.

The dance is one of the biggest potential money makers of the jubilee and the committee could use it to fund future jubilee activities, said Committee member Mike Underwood.

The 1983 dance will be held by the Association for Retarded Citizens.

The 1983 Jubilee will be April 15 through 17.

Tri-City League rekindled Monday

Members of the governments of South Bay, Belle Glade and Pahokee met Monday night, October 18 in an attempt to restart the long idle Tri-City League.

The representatives from the three cities discussed areas they thought the league may be of service to the area and the pitfalls which may prevent its success.

"I think what one city couldn't accomplish, the other three could," said Pahokee Mayor Duncan Padgett.

Belle Glade Mayor Thomas L. Altman said the league may be of help in placing Glades area residents on county or area boards to make the Glades residents' voices heard.

"That's a good example of the value of good relations with the coast. None of the boards require Glades area representatives, but they do it anyway," said Altman.

Pahokee Council Chairman Jon Mock added that area representatives to the board should be made aware that they represent the whole Glades region, not just the city they are from.

The league could also work in conjunction with area chambers of commerce to attract diversified industry to the area, said Altman.

"Of course, that's one area where we may work together initially, but end up as competitors," he said.

South Bay Mayor Don Tanner said the league could also work towards getting relief from regulatory agencies because of the unique conditions in the Glades.

"You take a piece of tin foil and put it on the ground, it will be gone in ten years here," he said.

"But you take that same piece of foil and put it on sand, and it will be there a hundred years from now. But they (regulatory agencies) have one set of standards for the whole nation to follow."

Mock said he feels the biggest issue facing the area is the fees levied by the Solid Waste Authority for using local dumping facilities.

Several years ago, that issue helped bring a demise to the league when disagreements over methods of disposal and fees arose between the three cities.

Tanner said the league members should be careful not to allow differences split the league up as in the past.

The league also elected officers and scheduled its next meeting for November 15 at 7 p.m. at the Days Inn in South Bay.

Altman was elected Chairman, Pahokee Councilman Ada Bush was elected Secretary-Treasurer and Tanner was elected Vice Chairman.

In attendance at the meeting were Altman, Tanner, Padgett, Mock, Bush, Pahokee Councilman Ronnie Graydon, Pahokee Councilman William E. McKinstry, South Bay Commissioners Rennie Morris, Willie Marshall and Verita Cox, South Bay City Manager Max Harrell, Belle Glade City Finance Director Frank Anderson, and Belle Glade City Commissioner George Goforth.

The league members decided to invite the members of the County Board of Commissioners to the meetings and also discussed the possibility of inviting representatives from Clewiston to the meetings.

Tanner was asked to report next meeting on the success of South Bay's experiments with a chemical to retard weed growth.

The league also discussed and voiced its opposition to a proposed one cent county sales tax to fund the construction of an art center on the coast.

"I think if they want an art center, the people over there ought to build one," said Padgett.

Mock suggested a tourist tax would be better suited for that purpose.

Caribbean interns train at Glades General

BELLE GLADE—Glades General Hospital has expanded its medical services to incorporate providing clinical training for medical students from Ross University, one of the finest medical schools in the Caribbean, according to Ms. Felisa A. Robinson, director of Public Relations. The hospital was approved by the Academic Dean of the Clinical Sciences Division of Ross University to provide Clinical Clerkships for medical students.

Hospital Administrator Patrick Lennon says that the Clinical Clerkship Program will benefit the medical education of the students, as well as the hospital and community, since some of the students may return to Belle Glade to establish private practices.

General and Vascular Surgeon Thomas Rostas, M.D., is the Director of the Medical Education. Dr. Rostas was selected by the Dean of Clinical Sciences to establish the clinical clerkship curriculum at the hospital.

Dr. Rostas is implementing a curriculum at the hospital where the students rotate through the hospital's departments of surgery, pediatrics, obstetrics, and gynecology.

All staff physicians at Glades General will provide the students with clinic training. These physicians, along with Dr. Rostas, will provide the students with the clinical exposure and education necessary to meet the Ross University standards. The doctors will provide guidance and feedback to the medical students and act as intermediaries between the medical students and the University.

Glades General is currently providing clinical training for Michael D'Esposito, Hicksville, N.Y., Robert Mittman, Bayside, N.Y., Anil Rana, Moonachie, N.Y., and Michael W. Maciel, Franklin Sq., N.Y.

All Clinical Clerkships from Ross University are taken in United States hospitals affiliated with the school.

DR. JAIME BENAVIDES, seated, explain some X-ray findings to four medical students from Ross University. The students are presently participating in an Clinical Clerkship Program at Glades General Hospital.

USDA schedule announced

Kansas City, Mo.—Secretary of Agriculture John R. Block announced on Sept. 23, 1982 a payment schedule under which eligible farmers will receive deficiency payments on 1982 crops and advance deficiency and diversion payments on 1983 crops.

Block said as soon as possible after Dec. 1, eligible wheat and barley producers will receive all their deficiency payments due under the 1982-crop programs, and eligible corn, upland cotton, grain sorghum and rice farmers will receive 70 percent of the 1982-crop deficiency payments due them. The remainder of the 1982-crop deficiency payments will be paid in early February to cotton and rice producers, while the final corn and grain sorghum payments will be made after April 1, Block said.

Producers of wheat and feed grains may request 60 percent of the projected 1983 deficiency payments and 60 percent of the 1983 diversion payments at the time they sign up, Block said. Sign up will be held Oct. 1, 1982 through March 31, 1983.

The deficiency payment rate equals the difference between the target price and the higher of the national average loan rate or the five-month weighted average market price received by farmers.

Block said advance diversion payment for wheat will be $1.35 per bushel times the farm yield times five percent of the farm base.

The advance deficiency payment will be 32.5 cents per bushel times the farm yield times the acres intended to be planted.

Advance payments also will be offered to farmers when they sign up in the 1983 feed grain, cotton and rice programs.

Diversion payments are compensation for land taken out of production in addition to any acreage reduction requirement.

Pioneer resident dies

Floyd O. Wilder, 64, of 190 N.W. 2nd Ave. South Bay, died Oct. 14 at the John F. Kennedy Memorial Hospital in Atlantis.

He was a native of Knob, Arkansas and came to the Glades area 55 years ago with his parents as early pioneers.

Mr. Wilder's father, Oliver, moved to Florida in 1920 with his family after the death of his wife in Arkansas. Floyd, the youngest of the children was two years old at the time. Oliver Wilder moved to Moore Haven then to Clewiston and the South Bay area.

The move to South Bay was made on Capt. Felix Forbes mail and passenger boat as there were no roads into the area. Oliver Wilder farmed at various places in the South Bay area and Floyd grew up in the area and was a witness of early life in the Glades as well as the changes that came later.

The Wilder family lived in the Bean City area in 1926 and survived the July storm and the hurricane in September that devastated Moore Haven, even though their house was flooded both times.

Floyd Wilder was a farmer and was engaged in farming or in farm related work until his retirement several years ago. He married Lillie Hobbs in 1937. They purchased the family home in South Bay in 1943 and their four children grew up there.

He was a member of the Farm Bureau, South Bay Lions Club, the South Bay City Council and an honorary member of the Future Farmers of America, Belle Glade Chapter.

Survivors include his wife Lillie D. Wilder of South Bay, one son Floyd O. Wilder, Jr., three daughters, Linda Stanley, Sharon Wilder and Teresa Nelson, all of West Palm Beach. Other survivors include one brother, Raymond Wilder of Hobe Sound, two sisters, Vivian Smith of Belle Glade and Hilda Lee of Clewiston, four grandchildren, Floyd O. Wilder III, Calvin Brian Wilder, Garth Wilder, and Blakely Ryan Wilder and one nephew, Troy W. Martin of Belle Glade.

Funeral services were held at the First Baptist Church in South Bay, Oct. 18 at 11 a.m. with the Rev. Paul Murray officiating, assisted by Rev. Aaron Pettry pastor of the Worship Center in Belle Glade.

Palbearers for Mr. Wilder were Paul C. Wilson, Thomas Williams, Douglas Baker, Jay Smith, James Summerlin, J.C. Bowen, Charles Corbin and Marvin Davis.

Interment followed at the Ridgeland Cemetery in Clewiston. Mixon Funeral Home in Belle Glade was in charge of arrangements.

DEWING
AND WHAT NOT

Framing the critics

People who say they don't know anything about art but they know what they like are lucky. I don't know anything about art and I don't even know what I don't like until somebody tells me.

I know I don't have much of a thing for bucolic scenes of cows in the meadows or sheep in the fold. Paintings that look like aerial photos of plowed fields in hallowing colors worry me. I like pictures of bridges. And cats. And most birds.

So, anyway, I've got me a new picture and up to now I haven't known whether to like it or not because the critics haven't finished telling me which way I should feel.

First of all, I won it in a raffle. Therefore, I don't know if it was the top prize or the booty prize. I didn't bid on it — it was luck of the draw. Bad or good luck awaits the final verdict.

Other people won such noncontroversial prizes as hanging plants, dangling macramés, and a gross of extra-strength Tylenol. They all knew where they stood.

Then I won me picture. It is a biggun. About the size of a Texas road map. But when it reached my hands, I'd learned:

It is a genuine Hooplaffer or Kitchennette, or a Podger. I've forgotten which.

That it's probably titled, "Sunrise Over the Swamp" or "Maiden Monday."

That the artist asks $1,000 (in unmarked bills) for a single painting (including frame) but offers a $800 reduction the day before a car payment's due.

That if I don't like the picture, the frame has a money back guarantee.

The truth is that I kind of like my picture but I'm afraid to say so. I'm intimidated by the critics. Nobody wants to be famous for having garish taste. Although anybody who proudly displays a picture of a cat wearing a bowler hat with a bird on top hasn't got much left of a tasty reputation to hang on to, I suppose.

In fact, when I'm up to taking my courage in my hands, I may proclaim to art lovers everywhere in the 'glades that I like the painting.

"Note those powerful brush strokes. The ingenious blend of cobalt and fuchsia — the artist's daring, sparing use of color." I'm going to say all that as soon as I've rehearsed my speech and can deliver it with vim, vigor, and credibility.

"Of course," I'll add, with a sneer that could wilt the curator of the National Gallery, "the frame is all wrong."

I may be weak on art, but I know a bad frame when I see one.

Everglades history

30 YEARS AGO
THE BELLE GLADE HERALD
OCTOBER 25, 1952

No more than two mills, $2 for each $1,000 worth of taxable property, would be enough to build a 110 bed hospital, according to a news story.

Of those, 75 would be "jet age" and 35 would be modern. The facility would cost a total of $1.2 million.

30 YEARS AGO
THE BELLE GLADE HERALD
OCTOBER 24, 1952

A capacity for producing more beef per acre than any other section of the country still didn't mean the Glades wasn't fraught with problems for cattlemen.

F.G. Ketrner, a prominent Okla. cattle dealer, told more than 350 Glades cattlemen and their guests said it wasn't enough for them to raise production without increasing their marketing efforts.

40 YEARS AGO
THE EVERGLADES NEWS
OCTOBER 23, 1912

A large group of Lake Region growers met at Cardwell to perfect a permanent organization as an affiliate of the Palm Beach County Farm Bureau.

Canal Point broker and grower Sam Chastain chaired the meeting and a special committee recommended ideas for the organization.

The committee was made up of Sam Fleming, L.L. Stuckey, Roy Vandergriff, J.T. Tatam, N.N. Sterling and Jess Elliott.

THE EVERGLADES NEWS
OCTOBER 23, 1912

A meeting of all the pastors of the different churches in the Everglades was called at Pahokee Baptist Church with the purpose of forming the Everglades Ministerial Association.

The Rev. Joe Tolls, pastor of the Pahokee Methodist Church, was elected president of the new organization.

League worth the effort

When members of local governments sat down Monday night to revitalize the long idle Tri-City League, they may have been taking an important step for the entire Glades.

As Duncan Padgett, the mayor of Pahokee put it, "I think what one city couldn't accomplish, the three of us could."

Just because the three cities work together doesn't necessarily mean they will succeed in working out the problems facing them, but working together can strengthen the cities and improve their chances.

There are many problems facing the three cities that they can work on for the benefit of the entire area.

As the soil continues to subside in this agricultural region, farming will become less and less of an economically viable basis for the region.

Alternatives will have to be sought. Belle Glade Mayor Thomas L. Altman suggested the league could work in tandem with area chambers of commerce to attract diversified industries to the Glades.

This could help preserve, if not improve, the quality of life in the area in the future.

Roads, such as state roads 27, 80 and 98, are perhaps the most visible of the immediate problems facing the area. They are also indicative of a major problem the league could help solve.

Too much of the attention and funds go the coastal regions while the Glades suffer for it.

"We're the other part of Palm Beach County," said Jon Mock, Pahokee Council Chairman.

The Tri-City League, if nothing else, could make the powers that be aware that the "other part of Palm Beach County," and its voters, exist. That could go a long way toward eliminating some of the inequities.

There are other problems for the cities to work on. And work out.

The league has been idle for a long time because of misunderstandings and hurt feelings.

The members of the league must realize that differences will arise, but the league shouldn't be broken because of them. There is too much good it can do if it stays together.

The members of the league seem to be working together with foresight, and we commend their efforts. If they are successful, they can help the residents of the entire area. If they fail, we lost nothing, but at least we put forth the effort to right some wrongs.

Editor: May I please use your newspaper to discuss an issue that is pertinent to the coming November 2nd election.

On Saturday, October 9, I had the pleasure of escorting as my guests, Congressman E. de la Garza (D. Texas), District 12 congressional candidate Brad Culverhouse, and Mr. Culverhouse's campaign manager, Biff Craine, on a tour of the Everglades.

Agricultural area, to a reception of farmers at a local sugar mill and to the annual meeting of the Western Palm Beach County Farm Bureau in Belle Glade.

Mr. de la Garza needs no lengthy introduction to the farmers of our area. In Washington, he is Chairman of the House of Representatives' Agriculture Committee and has fought and won many battles for the nation's farmers.

He is responsible for the "de la Garza Amendment" that provided sugar cane farmers with a life-saving sugar program for three years. This year, when the Farm Bill was about to fail, Mr. de la Garza and his committee were able to persuade enough representatives to vote "yes" so that the bill was passed.

Congressman de la Garza was in Florida's District 12 for several days campaigning for Brad Culverhouse, a rancher and lawyer from Fort Pierce. Mr. Culverhouse has legislative experience in both Tallahassee and Washington, where he has served many times as an aide to legislators and on select committees.

Again, your ongoing support and consideration of Palm Glades is sincerely appreciated. With best regards, Deborah E. Schiff Public Relations Director

Garza told me and repeated many times at the reception and Farm Bureau meeting that he is planning to have Brad Culverhouse appointed to the House Agriculture Committee to fill a vacancy left by a retiring representative from another sugar producing state, Louisiana. I believe he has a 99% chance of being appointed to this important and powerful committee. His opponent has little or no chance of being appointed to the same.

I want all voters who live in our rural and agricultural areas to think about the following: This may be once in a decade, or even a lifetime, opportunity to have a representative from our district on the House of Representatives' Agriculture Committee. Think of what that could mean for future farm bills that affect our area and its farm products.

Respectfully, Wayne A. Boynton

Editor: On behalf of Palm Glades Girl Scout Council, I would like to express my warmest appreciation regarding our recent Adult Recruitment campaign. The multi-media statewide effort joined by a total of seven Florida Girl Scout Councils has proven to be a great success! We have already received an impressive response from interested adults residing throughout Palm Glades 6 1/2 county jurisdiction.

Again, your ongoing support and consideration of Palm Glades is sincerely appreciated. With best regards, Deborah E. Schiff Public Relations Director

BOILER PLATE

An almost wish

I passed by my third grader's room last night and noticed that she had posted sign on her bedroom door which read:

Parents Beware.
50 cent admission

I was a little flabbergasted, but then thought to myself, "Well her room is worth the price of admission, sometimes."

If you haven't had a third grader around the house for some time, or it's been a while since you were a third grader, you may have forgotten just how unique they are.

For the record, third graders generally have two new front teeth, like Smurfs (bob-tailed blue elves which are three apples tall), are learning to write cursive (the scrawl which we adults call long hand), and are starting to get serious with their homework.

Generally speaking, third graders are unashamed to run out and greet their daddy when he comes home after work, cheerfully hop into his lap to watch television, and enjoy having stories read to them at bed time.

They are also full of questions about everything and anything and each answer usually generates two or three more questions.

It's an in-between age. Eight years ago they were just born and in eight more years they will be sweet 16.

They are beginning to show a streak of independence while still being largely dependent.

Their personality is flowering and they may never again be so sweet and blunt at the same time.

In short, it's an age that's got to be the best yet. But we realize that this is a fallacy because every age is distinct and wonderful.

It's almost enough to make you wish that you had had six or seven of the little rascals. Almost.

punt their way out. Davey Haines blocked that punt into the endzone for a safety, giving the Gators a 8-0 lead.

The Gators put the game on ice late in the final quarter. Luis Garcia intercepted a Lions' pass near the fifty yard line, and ten plays later, the ball was carried over by Haines from the four yard line to give the Gators a 14-0 lead.

King's attempted to come back late in the quarter when it drove the ball 70 yards in ten plays. The touchdown and extra-point cut the Gators' lead to 14-7 with 2:08 to go.

From there, the Gators ran the clock out to seal the victory.

"We seemed to have digressed some this week," said Walker. "We're a darn good football team, which we proved by coming out with a victory even though we played so poorly."

Penalties hurt the Gators against King's said Walker.

"A hundred and fifteen yards in penalties didn't help us," said Walker. "That's just not like us."

This Friday night, the Gators take on John Carroll at home. Kick-off time is 8 p.m.

After playing John Carroll, the Gators go back to Class A District seven play when they host their biggest rival for the district crown, Benjamin.

Moore Haven, the only other team in the district, hosts the Gators November 12.

"We have two more very tough teams left," said Walker. "We're gonna have to play better than we did this week if we want to win the district."

The Gators are 3-2 overall and 1-0 in district competition.

Devils lose 3-0 to Clewiston

By GLEN GIFFORD

When Pete Walker booted a 37-yard field goal less than 10 minutes into Friday night's CHS-Pahokee, few folks packed into Cane Field would have believed they'd seen the last of the evening's scoring.

The thought didn't cross Tiger coach Al Morrell's mind, for instance, until much later.

"I didn't think about it that early," he said. "Even at halftime, I told the boys we were pretty concerned about Pahokee's offense. Midway through the third quarter, I thought it might hold up, the way both teams were playing defense."

Neither team mustered more than 175 yards total offense, a tribute to the two defenses. Pahokee enjoyed some success in the air, where quarterback Antonio Wilson used the Shotgun Offense to rack up 113 yards, just nine fewer than the Tigers' total output running and passing.

The CHS defenders stopped the Blue Devils when they had to, however. Early in the second quarter, the Tigers made a goaline stand that will be remembered as long as there's a Clewiston-Pahokee rivalry.

The Blue Devils had driven from midfield to the CHS 1 on 11 plays. With first and goal at the one, a touched seemed certain. Tony Donnelly slammed running back Paul Buxton for a 1-yard loss, then Buxton struggled on second down to set back a couple of feet at most. On third down at the 1 1/2-yard line, the entire defense front gang-tackled Jeff Mullins back at the three. Eddie Daniels' 21-yard field-goal attempt went wide left, and the Blue Devils came up empty.

Morrell said that anyone who believes the game was won or lost on that series is exaggerating.

"Who's to say if they scored that we couldn't come right back and score," he said. "It might have got us so fired up we could've scored three times and blown 'em out."

"But it was the biggest play in the whole game for us. It was one of the best defensive efforts since I've been coaching at Clewiston. When you stop anyone at the one, that's something."

A dejected Pahokee coach Sandy Hyneman said a few minutes after the game that the difference between the two squads was Clewiston's quickness.

"I agree that we have a good, quick football team," Morrell responded, "but I don't think it was the difference. For Pahokee to call us quick is almost funny. They're the quickest team around."

"I don't think there was such a thing as a difference. We just hit our field goal and they didn't."

CHS had an opportunity to add another three points shortly before halftime, but Walker's 27-yard kick went a few feet wide right.

Turnovers, penalties, and dominant defenses kept both offenses in check throughout most of the second half.

Pahokee became desperate for a score as time ran short in the fourth quarter. Wilson kept calm despite pressure from the CHS defensive front as he scrambled out of several potential big losses. The Blue Devils nearly scored twice, but Titus Dixon and Pete Walker made, game saving tackles.

On their next-to-last possession, the Blue Devils were driving at the Tigers' 36 when the ball popped out of Buxton's hands and into the grasp of the Tigers' Randy Dixon.

In the last two games, the Blue Devils turned the ball back over on a fumble. Wilson's heroics ended. Robert Holmes picked off an underthrown pass and returned it to the Pahokee 47 with less than two minutes in the game. Clewiston ran out the clock on four plays and the well-mannered celebration began.

At quarterback, Holmes statistics were unimpressive (4 of 8 passing for 43 yards and an interception, and 28 yards on five running plays), but his leadership and attitude pleased Morrell.

"I've been looking for this all year out of Robert," he said. "We told him during the week what we wanted out of him, sound fundamentals and a strong game. He gave us that."

Running backs Leonard Mixon and Hal White

split the rushing duties almost equally. Both carried 14 times, Mixon for 55 yards and White for 51.

"I'm not unhappy with our offense," Morrell said. "We moved the ball well at times, and Pahokee has a defensive team almost as good as ours."

Morrell hesitated to single out individual players for merit, wishing to spread the credit around. One he did mention was John Reid, who led the defense statistically with nine tackles and three assists. He also picked up 12 yards on five carries.

Willis Benson had four tackles and two assists, and caught two of Holmes' passes for 21 yards. Gerald Johnson picked off a pass.

"Both teams are good enough for the playoffs," Morrell said. "Unfortunately, one team has to miss the playoffs. Every year, one knocks the other off."

Gators beat Kings 14-7 in first district game

BELLE GLADE -- The Glades Day Gators beat King's Academy 14-7 last Friday, but coach Byron Walker, Jr. didn't like what he saw.

"Terrible," he said of his team's performance. "We probably played the second worst game of the year. We played the worst against Pinecrest and the second worst against King's Academy."

"Defensively, we allowed King's to run up the middle," he said. "They controlled the clock on us. They were inside our 20 three or four times. We turned them back three of those times. After they (the Gators) saw King's was more than just a ranking in a newspaper, they decided they better get it in gear and do something."

If the Gators were terrible, they were just terrible enough to win.

They came out on top of a 14-7 score after 48 minutes of play, holding the Lions scoreless until the final two minutes and eight seconds of the game.

The Gators first points went up on the board with 28 seconds left in the first half when Jose Perez, the games leading rusher, carried the ball in from the five yard line for a touchdown.

The conversion was blocked. Perez TD culminated a 77-yard drive over one and a half minutes.

Perez carried the ball 102 yards in 18 carries for the Gators.

In the third quarter, the Lions were pushed back to their own two yard line and attempted to

Injuries plague Crusaders in loss

BELLE GLADE -- The Crusaders need a deep bench this year.

In the last two games, the Belle Glade Christian Crusaders have lost three starters including Quarterback Alex Morales.

Saturday, October 16, they lost Rodney Brown and Pipo Paez due to injuries early in the first quarter against Broward Christian.

Broward went on to deal the Crusaders their second defeat of the season.

The two teams tangled for three scoreless quarters before the only points of the game were scored. Broward intercepted a Crusader pass at their own 40 and drove the ball in ten plays for a total of 134 yards before Jimmy Newton carried the ball in on a quarterback sneak from the one yard line.

Vinnie Perrotters ran the ball in for the two-point conversion and the Crusaders were down 8-0.

"If we played to the best of our ability, we could have won the game," said Coach James Jacks. "We should have won the ball game, had everyone been healthy."

Morales is lost for the season, but Paez and Brown may return. Their loss wouldn't be unnoticed, said Jacks.

"It's gonna have some effect on us," he said, adding "A couple new players have come on the last couple weeks, deciding they wanted to play, who can do the job."

If Paez and Brown don't return, the Crusaders' hopes rest with Quarterback David Chamblie, Robert Echols, Philip Echols and any newcomers who can contribute.

Chamblie, who took over the quarterback position after Morales was injured two weeks ago, "did an excellent job for us," according to Jacks.

Philip Echols has been the team's "big gun" all year, picking up 104 yards in 25 carries against Broward.

Mirto Vigora was the team's second leading rusher last week, picking up 44 yards in five carries.

Before he was injured, Paez picked up eight yards in two carries.

Robert Echols caught all three of Chamblie's passes for 76 yards.

The Crusaders dominated the ground and air attack. The Crusader defense held Broward to 77 yards in 23 rushes and 31 yards in four complete passes.

The Crusader offense picked up 137 yards on the ground in 38 carries and 76 yards in three passes.

Chamblie completed three of seven passes.

He was intercepted once.

The Crusaders also lost one fumble. They didn't recover any of Broward's two fumbles and didn't intercept any of their seven passes.

The Crusaders were penalized 10 times for a total of 102 yards and Broward lost 85 yards in seven penalties.

This week, the Crusaders host Boca Academy. Boca Academy is 3-2 after defeating American Heritage, which a 14-0 undefeated going into the game.

"We've got to really be on our toes," said Jacks. "I think if we go on there and play football with the personality we have, we can still go 7 and 2. That's what we're shooting for."

The game starts at 2 p.m. Saturday.

Raiders up record to 4-1 with win

BELLE GLADE-The Glades Central Community School Raiders upped their football season record to 4-1 with an impressive win over the Atlantic Eagles Friday night.

The only blemish on the Raiders record is their loss to Cardinal Newman High School.

The Raiders used their usual combination Randy Rutledge and Eric Smith to beat the Eagles on the Raiders' home field.

Rutledge rushed for 109 yards in 17 carries and scored two touchdowns.

Rutledge presently is the second leading scorer in Palm Beach County in Class 3-A. Newman's Alonzo Jefferson is the area's leading scorer.

Smith completed 9 of 16 passes for 164 yards and one touchdown to Alonzo Allen, who had two catches for 19 yards on the night.

Rutledge now has 540 yards rushing on the season for the Raiders.

The Raiders reached pay dirt during the opening of the second quarter when Rutledge ran it in from the 3 yard line.

The extra point attempted failed and the Raiders led 6-0 at halftime.

Smith got warmed up in the third quarter and hit Allen with a 19 yard scoring pass and then Smith ran in the conversion, giving the Raiders a 14-0 lead.

Rutledge closed out the scoring with a 10 yard run in the final quarter.

The Raiders defense also had a good night. Defensive tackle Tommy Duhart has seven tackles, three assists and one quarterback sack. Randy Weston, the other defensive tackle, had five tackles, two assists and recovered one fumble.

About the only area the Eagles surpassed the Raiders were in first downs. The Eagles had 12 and the Raiders had 11.

The Raiders will play John I. Leonard High School Friday night at 8 p.m. at John I. Leonard.

Antique engine show brings back memories

By BILL BRYANT

Exhibitors and spectators alike took a stroll down memory lane at the fifth annual Antique Gas Engine Show held Saturday and Sunday at John Stretch Park in Lake Harbor.

The show, sponsored by the Florida Flywheelers, featured antique gas engines and vehicles that helped power America's early industrial development.

"Our main objective is to bring these old engines out to free shows and show the kids what engines and power was like in the old days," said Carl Hymen, a member of the Florida Flywheelers and a host for this year's show.

"The old cars and engines also bring back memories for older exhibitors and spectators alike."

Hymen and his wife, Gail, from Moore Haven and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Mikovsky from Lake Harbor were the hosts for the show this year.

Hymen explained that one weekend a month, the members of the Florida Flywheelers get together and put on a show at various locations throughout Florida. Two families are chosen to host every show.

He noted that the Florida Flywheelers Club was established in February of 1972 at a meeting in Davenport, FL, adding that the Flywheelers Club is a nationwide organization with almost 400 members from all over the United States and Canada.

"We try to promote the club as a family type thing," Hymen said. "There are a lot of women in the club and members encourage their children between the ages of eight and nine to get an old engine and start tinkering with it."

However, Hymen emphasized that owning an antique gas engine is not a prerequisite for joining the club and pointed out that "all it takes to join the club is an enthusiasm for old gas-powered engines and the history they represent."

"Some of the engines on display here at the show," he continued, "were ingenious inventions far ahead of their time."

Hymen encouraged anyone that has an old engine laying around, "even if it's sick," to bring it out to any Florida Flywheelers' show.

"There are always lots of people at the shows who can tell someone how to repair an old gas engine or may have spare parts for the engine," he said.

"Antique gas engine shows are different than antique car shows," Hymen related. "At antique car shows, it's don't touch, but here, it's let me take you for a ride and show you how the machinery works."

Hymen has been collecting antique gas engines and vehicles since 1962 and currently owns three antique trucks, one car, 35 engines, 15 tractors and a steam engine.

"My wife is just as crazy about antique gas engines as I am," he said, adding that his wife owns several antique trucks and cars.

Explaining how collectors obtained the old engines and vehicles, Hymen explained some are advertised in the Florida Flywheelers' bi-monthly newsletter and others are advertised by word of mouth.

"There's a story and a bit of history behind every engine and vehicle in the show," Hymen noted.

According to Hymen, there was a hayride at the show Saturday night and a "slow tractor race" Sunday morning.

"Instead of drag racing, we see which tractor can go the slowest," he added.

"The main thing about the shows," Hymen reiterated, "is for the people attending the shows to have fun by going for a ride and driving the old vehicles and tractors."

Ed Mikovsky pointed out that last year there were 78 gas powered engines in the show at John Stretch Park as compared to this year's 91.

"Entries are increasing about 10 percent each year," he said, adding that "every year the show gets bigger."

SEVERAL OLD TRACTORS were exhibited on Saturday and Sunday at the Antique Gas Engine Show sponsored by the Florida Flywheelers. Picture here, is a 1926 15-30 McCormick-Deering tractor with iron wheels. The tractor is owned by Bob Reed of Decatur, Ga., who traveled to Lake Harbor from his home to attend the show. Reed explained that he acquired the tractor from a man who used the tractor at a sawmill in Massachusetts. Reed stored the tractor in a garage he rented from an elderly woman in Decatur for 10 years while he worked to get it in running condition. Currently, Reed stores the tractor at the home of fellow Florida Flywheelers member Carl Hymen in Moore Haven. The tractor took first place in the "slow tractor race," according to Hymen.

BOB REED, of Decatur, Ga., turns the crank to start a 1918 Model T Ford truck exhibited at the show. The truck is owned by Carl Hymen, who offered rides in the truck to kids and curious adults.

PUMPING WATER the way it used to be pumped. Here a 1926 Myers water pump (at water's edge) is being driven by belts connected to a 6-horsepower Fairbanks-Morse engine. The engine weighs approximately 1900 pounds. Second from left is an old concrete mixer. There were about 91 antique gas engines at the show this year, according to Ed Mikovsky, one of the hosts for this year's show.

THIS 1926 MODEL T Ford Roadster was one of the old cars exhibited at the show. The car is owned by Carl Hymen of Moore

Haven. The vehicle has been reconditioned and "runs like a top."

Child abuse, neglect campaign kicked off

TALAHASSEE—The Florida Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services (HRS) recently kicked off a major public awareness campaign aimed at focusing public attention on the growing and critical problem of child abuse and neglect.

The statewide effort will incorporate television, radio, newspaper and magazine participation in spotlighting the prob-blem through public service announcements and advertisements, news coverage and informational brochures. "Child abuse is an immense tragedy that we all must work to eliminate," said Gov-nor Bob Graham. "As Floridians, we ultimately pay a high price for child abuse since abuse is related to juvenile delinquency and other social problems."

"People, particularly professionals who work with children, need to report suspected abuse so that we can bring the resources of the state to bear for protecting the child and treating the abuser," Graham said.

HRS operates a central Child Abuse Registry and 24-hour-a-day Abuse Hotline to receive reports of suspected child abuse and neglect. Free telephone calls can be made from anywhere in the state, to the hotline number 1-800-342-9152. Persons reporting suspected child abuse do not have to give their names.

After a report is received, HRS workers are assigned to investigate the family situation and to evaluate the immediate safety of the child.

Nationwide, reports of child abuse and neglect have increased 147 percent since 1974. But in Florida, officials say, reports of abuse and neglect have increased 192 percent in the same time period. HRS officials say more than 71,000 children were reported abused or neglected last year in Florida. And experts believe that for every abuse case reported, another two cases go unreported.

"Unfortunately, it is a proven fact that people abused as children often become abusers themselves, and often they end up in the criminal justice system," said HRS Secretary David Pingree. "One important way to get a handle on serious crime and to improve the quality of life for our children is for professional human services to actively identify and report incidents of child abuse."

The Legislature has made prevention of child abuse and neglect a priority in Florida. An Interprogram Child Abuse Task Force that includes personnel from HRS, the Department of Law Enforcement and the Department of Education has been set up in the 13 HRS districts across the state.

These groups will study the unique local and statewide aspects of the problem and make recommendations by Jan. 1, for needed programs.

Florida currently has a unique statewide system of 15 Child Protection Teams for abused children.

These innovative teams are composed of physicians, social workers, psychologists and other human services professionals on call 24 hours a day.

The teams provide intensive treatment, therapy and education to child abuse victims and their families. Officials say the success rate of the teams thus far is exceptionally high.

Absentee ballots are available

Absentee ballots for the Nov. 2 general election are now available at the Supervisor of Elections Office at 810 Datura St. in West Palm Beach and the Glades Office Building at 2976 State Road 16 in Belle Glade.

Voters who will be out of the county on election day may vote their ballots in person at one of these locations.

Absentee voters as well as those unable to go to the polls due to illness or some other disability may have a ballot mailed to them by calling the supervisor of elections office at 837-2860 or by sending a written request to the Supervisor of Elections, 810 Datura St., West Palm Beach, FL 33401.

Every registered voter in Palm Beach County will be receiving a sample ballot for the Nov. 2 general election mailed by the Supervisor of Elections.

In order to save money, the sample ballot will be mailed one per household of registered voters. Because of the change to single member districts, there are 36 different ballot styles in Palm Beach County.

The sample ballots received by each voter will show only the candidates and issues to be voted on in his district.

Voters are urged to become informed of all the candidates and issues on the ballot before going to the polls.

They may mark their sample ballots and take them to the polling place with them. In the polling place, the voter should be very careful not to display his marked sample ballot so that others might be able to see and possibly be influenced by his selections.

The mailing of the sample ballot began Tuesday, Oct. 19, and continues throughout the week until the ballot is mailed to all areas of the county.

There will be extras of all of the 36 different ballot styles at the Supervisor of Elections Office in West Palm Beach in case any voter does not receive his sample ballot or needs an extra copy.

Interest rates drop on USDA loans

Marie L. Wilkins, county executive director of the Palm Beach County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, announced that interest rates charged on commodity and farm stored loans disbursed in October will be 11 percent.

Commodities eligible for loans include honey, rice, feed grains, and sugarcane. For details, telephone Mrs. Wilkins in Belle Glade at 996-7900.
